SOCIALISM AS A MENACE.

SOCIALISM as expounded by the Socialist party which regularly puts up candidates in Nye county is the greatest menace this country has to face. It is therefore most desirable that every worker and every employer should read the expose of the Socialist fallacy now going the rounds of the newspapers. It is particularly desirable that every school teacher and clergyman should study the series written by Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, who points out that many schools and colleges and many pulpits are either unconscious or willing agents in spreading the theories and teachings of the Socialist party. Dr. Butler shows that Socialism, as preached by the Debs party, means not social reform, which every intelligent and forward stepping man and woman can support, but political revolution. He proves that no man or woman who upholds the Socialist party can be a loyal American. He reminds us that the Socialist party has openly declared its purpose to wreck the present form of government in America and undo the work that has been accomplished since the Declaration of Independence was signed. In a few days Tonopah will celebrate in common with the rest of the country, the anniversary of that great document. Thousands of citizens will take part. The orators of the day would do well to read some of the eloquent sentences in which Dr. Butler tells of the attack which is being made upon this country's system of government. They can well afford to overlook the opportunity to twist the lion's tail. This is an amusement which no longer has reason to be popular. The danger to the United States lies not in the tight little island, but in this country where the Socialists are spreading a doctrine which is an absolute contradiction of democracy. Tramp on it; treat it as a deadly snake for it threatens America's existence.

FIRST BENEFIT OF THE SERVICE MEN.

THIS EVENING the boys who responded to the call of country hold a benefit having for its object the raising of a fund for procuring a charter from the parent organization. This is one of the best objects to which money can be contributed. The American Legion purposely held down the dues and initiation fees so that all eligible men would be enrolled in the ranks of an organization that will prove one of the bulwarks of the nation when occasion arises. Every citizen with a drop of red blood in his veins should patronize the entertainment and cheerfully donate according to his means for the advancement of the organization that it may be firmly established as the safeguard of future generations. The small amount of money asked from those who attend or who approve the principles of the order will never be missed and the returns will come back in the form of crumbs cast on the waters of life. Nevada gave her best youth and blood for the cause and it is only fair that those who remained at home during the parlous times of war and shared all the benefits of immunity should lend cheerful assistance. The main object of the association is to bring together the men with a common interest, men who were willing to lay down their lives for principle and who stand ready to defend their flag at all times from attacks either from within or without. That is the kind of stuff the country needs and the best way to encourage such sentiment is to lend a hand when these men present their cause to us for substantial support.

TRUE AMERICAN CITIZENSHIP.

AN ALL ENVELOPING wave of patriotism is sweeping over the nation on the near approach of Independence Day and the leading universities engaged in discharging their annual coteries of students, through their deans, are endeavoring to urge a high standard of citizenship. These colleges are coming back to the paths of their progenitors and are devoting more attention to turning out an American type of boy. The type is more the character of the true American than his physical characteristics. Many influences have combined to make the American what he is today, and not the least of these is the fact that he lives in a great, beautiful new land, a country upon which he looks out upon all the world with the one thought in mind of making the world a happier place for mankind. The American type is a hopeful optimistic, humor loving individual. He is strong, versatile, loyal to his friends, just to his foes and, above all, he is the most patriotic individual on the face of the earth.

MAKE MOONEY SHUT HIS FACE.

ONE OF THE most outrageous effusions emanating from a condemned murderer and arch criminal is the latest appeal from Thomas Mooney beseeching labor not to engage in any bomb-throwing exploits on the Fourth of July. The assurance of this scoundrel in deliberately asserting that the labor men of the country are anarchists like himself and that they are ready to destroy life and property for any cause whatsoever, is a libel that should call forth the formal denunciation of the American Federation of Labor. Mooney was repudiated by his own union when that body refused to sanction the call for a twenty-four hour strike to show sympathy with the felon who is allowed to wag his tongue too freely. The appeal coming from the jawsmith bears on its face the implication that organized labor is nothing more than an aggregation of murderers, anarchists and assassins who stand ready at any time to terrorize the public and intimidate the courts by resorting to Bolshevik tactics. Labor should purge itself of all connection with such characters as Mooney especially when they essay to drag the name of an honored class into the bloody shambles through which Mooney and his confederates were ready to wade before the strong arm of the law seized them by the nape of the neck and thrust them into jail where they are fortunate to be permitted to live.

When Mooney issued a formal appeal not to commit bomb outrages the language of his proclamation conveyed the innuendo that he was in a position of authority and entitled to speak for the labor element. By the same token he brands himself as a leader of radicals whose chief weapons are the torch and stiletto and those who associate with the dastardly plotter against preparedness should be given a taste of the same medicine as that on which their chief is subsisting minus the notoriety which a mandarin prison management permits the chief culprit to enjoy. By his latest fulmination Mooney confesses himself a leader of bomb throwers.

COMES TO STOP ON CROSS CUT

The big crosscut on the 400-foot level of the Simon Silver-Lead Mines company has come to a stop after being driven to a distance of 219 feet. Up to the point where the hanging wall is supposed to have been cut on account of the rhyolite contact being reached, the solid and continuous orebody shows a width of 142 feet. But both the rhyolite and the lime shows such a high mineralization and values as to be practically classed as ore. This undoubtedly is one of the largest solid bodies of ore ever discovered in the world and is a record-breaker. The work of drifting on the vein on the 400-foot level is now being carried forward, 20 feet a day is now being made and this will be bettered and the force increased as soon as the larger compressor engine is installed to furnish power for additional jackhammers. The drifts being run are showing up the same substantial orebodies and character of ore as shown in the big crosscut just completed. Until the installation of a heavier hoist the development work will be confined to opening up and blocking out the enormous ore reserves proven already to exist on the 400-foot level. As soon as the heavier hoisting machinery is installed the work of sinking to the 500 and other lower level will be pushed with all possible speed. In the meantime the mine stands as a challenge to the world with a conservative estimate of over $12,000,000 worth of ore already in sight.

AMUSEMENTS

THEDA BARA AT THE BUTLER THEATER TODAY

Theda Bara, the William Fox star, will be the headline attraction at the Butler today, in the Fox super-production, "The She-Devil." As the coquette and siren of a lazy little village in Spain the noted screen artist entrances a bandit among her many admirers and he lays at her feet stolen riches only to find that she has deserted him. He gives chase, finds her in Paris at a theater, and when she eludes him, gains entrance to her room where he entreats her to return to sunny Spain. She refuses but returns with an artist whom she followed to Paris after he had painted her portrait. How the siren outwits the bandit, after he seizes her and the artist, and eventually makes the bandit a prisoner in his own home, thus opening the way for her escape with the painter, is most beautifully and convincingly told in a masterpiece of film craft, and makes a passionate, powerful love story. Added to the feature will be the latest Pathe News. Tomorrow, Mabel Normand in "When Doctors Disagree," a comedy drama in five acts of whirlwind adventure. A story of white coats, sharp knives and love—that will keep you on the edge of the seat every minute. Friday another De Mille production, "The Squad Man," from the famous stage play. It's a corker—don't miss it—Artistic, thrilling, powerful and beautiful, with one of the greatest all-star casts ever brought together on the screen.

MISS FELICE COHN IN A BIG LAND SUIT

A land hearing is being held at Golconda this week, being conducted before Mrs. Anna M. Warren of Reno, United States land commissioner, and Miss Felice Cohn, special agent and attorney for the land department of the interior. The Central Pacific has applied for a patent to certain lands and protests have been made against the issuing of patent on the ground that the land is mineral in character. Several witnesses are being examined and the hearing is expected to occupy several days. Miss Cohn is a daughter of Mr. M. Cohn of Tonopah.

The dancing masters at intervals do a sensible thing. They say that the "rhinny" dance must go. It is an abomination.

RICH BULGE IN THE TONOPAH DIVIDE MINE

The crosscut being extended to the vein on the fifth level of the Tonopah Divide had been extended 85 feet yesterday, according to A. I. D'Arcy, consulting engineer for the company.

The mine is now in the best condition of its history, due principally to the fact that the rich bulge in the vein, first opened 115 feet southeast of the shaft on the third level, has been proved by recent work on both the second and fourth levels. The value of the ore in the bulge on the fourth level is the same as on the third and a continuation of the rich ore has been proved by the second level drift, which has been extended 275 feet from the main crosscut.

The length of the southeast drift on the fourth level is 400 feet and a drift has been driven 50 feet north west on this level.

With the southeast drift advancing in good ore, the total length of the orebody is 40 feet. This is the greatest length of ore proved in the mine at present, with all southeast drifts in ore. The second level southeast drift has penetrated the "big bulge" for 25 feet.

Hear no kicking from Italy these days. Possibly the American wheat makes excellent spaghetti.
